During this academic year, children have been asked to come to school in PE kit on the day(s) of their PE lessons.

We have found that this has allowed us more time for the teaching and learning of PE and Games skills, minimised the requirement for contact with children in the younger classes and also addressed the issue of changing spaces for the privacy of some of our older children.

We are proposing that pupils coming to school in kit should continue for PE days but this should be the same kit for all.

On PE days, children should wear a white Tee or Polo shirt underneath their school cardigan or jumper. They should wear dark grey or black tracksuit bottoms and their black shorts underneath so that if the session is indoors the tracksuit bottoms can be removed. Plimsolls should be brought to school in their PE bag and left on the children's coat peg, as they have done with their kit prior to any of the lockdowns. Trainers can be worn to school and children can change into their plimsolls when sessions are indoors or wear their trainers if the lesson is outdoors.
